JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR.

A CURIOUS DISCOVERY.

One of the most curious discoveries resulting from the recent opening of the famous archives of Spain was made by Gustavus Bergenroth, who died at Madrid early in the present year, while engaged in an examination of the Spanish State papers for the English Master of the Rolls, and whose life have just been written by Mr. W. C. Cartwright, M. P. This was a detailed account of the arrest, imprisonment and death of Don Carlos, the unfortunate son of Philip II, written by the Prince's Confessor, Fray Juan de Avila. It was formerly believed that Don Carlos was killed by his father's order; but Mr. Prescitt and other modern historians arrived at the conviction that the Prince was insane, that he was of necessity kept under restraint, and that he naturally died of fever. The narrative of Fray Juan, however, shows the older theory to be the true one. The first offense of Don Carlos was falling in love with his step-mother, Isabella of France, the King's third wife. His next crime was a treasonable correspondence with the Prince of Orange and Counts Egmont and Horn. The papers were discovered, and Philip ordered his son to be submitted to the rack to extort a confession. The whole affair was managed with the utmost secrecy. After Don Carlos had confessed under torture, the royal judge sentenced him to be beheaded. The King, "with a serene face and without betraying the least sign of grief, serenely and calmly signed the sentence." When the news was communicated to the prisoner he burst into tears, was terribly frightened, and begged to see his father, but Phillip refused. The execution took place three days afterward. The Prince heard mass, confessed, and was then led to an adjoining room, where a large armchair was placed, surrounded by a quantity of saw dust. The narrative goes on as follows: "The executioner stands near it with his knife. The Prince is not frightened by that sight. He is seated on the chair. The executioner begs his pardon, and the Prince in a gracious manner gives him his hand to kiss. The executioner ties his legs and arms with 'sana,' (I do not know that word, says Bergenroth of Cologne) to the legs and arms of the chair; ties a bandage of black silk round his eyes and places himself, with the knife in his hand, behind the prince. The prince says to the confessor, 'Pray for my soul.' The confessor says the Credo, and the prince responds in a clear and firm voice. When he pronounced the words 'unico filio'—only Son—the executioner puts his knife to his throat, and a stream of blood rushes down on the saw dust. The prince struggles little; the knife, being very sharp, had cut well. The executioner takes the bandage from the eyes, which are closed. The face is pale, like that of a corpse, but has preserved its natural expression. The executioner unties the corpse, wraps it in a black hair cloth, and puts it in a corner of the room. That done, Antonio Perez flies all at once at the executioner, accusing him of having stolen the diamonds of the Prince. The executioner denies, is searched, and Perez finds, in one of the folds of his dress, the diamonds. The executioner grows pale, and declares that is witchury.—Escovedo is sent to the King, and soon returns with two arquebusques. The King, he says, has ordered that the executioner is to die on the spot for the heinous crime of having robbed the corpse of a prince of the blood royal. The executioner confesses, protests his innocence, is led out by the soldiers into the court yard, and two detonation of arquebusques are heard. That was on the night of the 23d of February, 1568." It should be said that Bergenroth died before he had fully satisfied himself of the genuineness of this document.

HOW POOR BOYS REACH THE TOP ROUND.

The New York Commercial Advertiser say:

There are 17 919 names who pay an income tax in this city. Sixty-seven persons who pay on incomes of $100,000 or over. Most of the solid gentlemen are self-made men, who have come up from the lowest round of the ladder. The man who leads the list, A. T. Stewart, everybody knows is an Irish emigrant, who commenced life with a capital of less than twenty-five cents; indeed, with a few exceptions, most of the parties in the list were scarce as well off as Mr. Stewart. Take Henry Keep; he boasts that he graduated from the poor house of Jefferson county. Jay Gould, drove a herd of cattle from Delhi, Delaware county, for 50 cents per day, in order to get money enough to reach Hudson River. David Groseback, over thirty years ago, used to mend old shoes for his brother, who was a respectable shoemaker in Albany. We all know the history of James Gordon Bennett and Robert Bonner, poor boys, full of talent and industry.—Rufus Haich, when a young man, had the ambition to hold the reins of a peddler's wagon. E. D. Morgan commenced life with a quarter of a measure of molasses. It is scarce a dozen years since Henry Clews was an errand boy in one of the banking houses down town. The brothers Seligman started out in life with a peddler's pack.—David Dows, in his younger days, retailed pork by the half pound and molasses by the gill. H. T. Helmbold was first cabin boy on the sloop Mary Jane, that navigated the Delaware River. We might go on through the list, and show that nearly every one of these solid men were the architects of their own fortunes.

Young men, who are battling for place and position, should remember that these individuals had to battle with life just as hard as they are doing. Let them take heart, and never say die.

Charles Fetcher, a distinguished European actor, arrived in New York, on Friday last. He makes his first appearance before an American audience at Niblo's Garden, on the 10th, as Ruy Blas. He will be supported by Miss Carlotta Leclere, an able English actress, who has accompanied him professionally to this country. His engagement with Messrs. Jarrett and Palmer extends to one hundred nights, during which he will perform a greater part of his celebrated roles, including Hamlet. His Shakespearean impersonations—more particularly his Hamlet and Iago—have engaged the thoughtful attention of the best English critics. His Ruy Blas, his Leparders, and his Claude Melnotte have long been the themes of almost universal commendation

LIGHT.

In the present day, and for many years past, the subject of cheap light has interested philanthropic minds of all civilized countries, and such are the improvements that have been made, both in the quality of illuminating substances, and the prices at which it may be had, that we are led to wonder how our ancestors managed to get along with their rush lights and tallow dips.

In former times the material was not wanting, but the art of application had not been discovered. Petroleum, from which nearly all our light producing material is now made, was known to exist two thousand years ago, a spring of it on the Island of Zante, one of the Ionian group, being described by Herodotus. It is also known that large quantities were obtained at Bakoo, on the Caspian Sea, in India and in Persia, where it was collected at very early ages. It was used in its crude state, and though its qualities were known, no progress was made in the manner of distilling and clarifying it for many hundreds of years.

The first distilled petroleum made in the United States, was, we believe, about 1846, from a patented process invented by Selliman, a French Chemist. In the early days of refining in this country, stills of a capacity varying from fifteen to two hundred barrels were used. As the discoveries of petroleum progressed, the capacity was increased, until eventually tank shaped stills have been brought into use of capacity of from 500 to 2500 barrels.

The stills are filled with the crude oil and fire applied in the furnaces beneath them; the vapors arising are carried forward, as in the distillation of spirits of turpentine, in pipes immersed in water, condensing the vapors into a liquid which runs out at the end of the pipes.

The first product of evaporation, or first time of passing through the pipes, is called gasoline, a very light hydro carbon. The temperature of the still is then increased, and the next product is called naptha, benzine, or benole.

The next and last product of distillation is the refined petroleum. This is run until about ten per centum of the original quantity remains in the still, called residuum or tar, and which is converted into a substance called paraffine, or lubricating oil.

This is a brief outline of the manner of distilling petroleum. The third and last running of the stills, the refined petroleum, is of a greenish color, and of a very disagreeable ordor. This defect is remedied, in part, by placing the refined petroleum in tanks, where, by means of an air pump, violently agitated for half an hour, the air is forced through it, and about one and a half per cent. of sulphuric acid added to the oil. The agitation then ceases and the oil allowed to settle, when the acid and the impurities are drawn off from the bottom of the tank. The oil is then washed, first in water and then in caustic soda, thus removing any portion of the acid that may remain, or neutralizing it. The oil is next passed through shallow tanks, exposed to light and air, for the purpose of bleaching it, then heated by steam pipes running through it, to generate all gaseous vapors which will ignite at a temperature below 110 degrees Fahrenheit, and to cause the evaporation. This is the test required by law, having undergone which, it is barrelled for market.

The various processes through which the oil passes are of such a character as to preclude the possibility of uniform purity, and hence we find considerable difference in the brilliancy of light different samples of the oil will make, to say nothing of probable adulteration, which is no doubt frequently practiced.

The best oil is that which is almost or quite colorless, but looks bluish on being poured out, and nearly devoid of smell, and with this kind there is very little danger of explosion.

A NEW RELIGIOUS MOVEMENT.—The N. Y. Tribune states that a new mission is to be inaugurated in the low quarters of that city by the Ritualistic section of the Episcopal Church, similar to those in London and other large cities in England, for leading the poor and degraded to a better state of things; thus every form of innocent recreation—such as penny readings, lectures, amateur bands, etc.—is fostered and carried on under the superintendance of the clerical and lay members of the mission.—The work is to be undertaken here by an Englishman, the Rev. Joshua D. Bradley, who has recently arrived and proposes to reside here for that special purpose. He is one of the priests of the well-known Church of St. Alban's, London. He will rent a commodious hall, reside with a brother priest on the premises, and "by visiting personal kindness, sympathy and temporal relief, to minister to Christ in His poor—to do also what they can in the Sunday and night schools to win souls to the love of "Jesus Christ.—All these priests ask is enough to live upon. Under such circumstances "it is difficult to suppose that two such self-sacrificing men can meet with a failure."

THE PATTERSON FAMILY.

MR EDITOR:—I was lately looking over "The Napoleon Dynasty" and on one of its pages the portrait of Elizabeth Patterson reminded me that near my own home in North Carolina, a near relative of hers had lately died; the last representative of a family that had long lived in our midst, attended our church, and whose blood had mingled with that of the Bonapartes. There is much that is highly romantic in the history of the Patterson family, and some future novelist may here find abundant materials for a work of fiction.

The Pattersons were Scotch Irish and when they emigrated to this country some of them settled in Pennsylvania and afterwards came to North Carolina and settled in what was then Unity Parish—now Guilford County. Some of them settled in Baltimore, and from these sprang Wm. Patterson, father-in-law of Jerome Bonaparte.—He was a merchant and amassed very considerable wealth, and at the beginning of this century was one of the wealthiest men of Baltimore.

At that time Napoleon was rapidly rising in power and his name was becoming famous, even in our Western world. He was now First Consul of France, and anxious to carry his family with him in the way to distinction, he looked to the navy as the place for his youngest brother, Jerome. In 1801 Jerome was sent to America with a squadron under the command of Gen. Le Clerc, and after the commencement of hostilities between England and France on the breaking of the peace of Amiens, early in 1803 Jerome seeking for adventures with the British in this quarter of the world, cruised for several months along the Atlantic coast of the U. S., and afterwards put into New York Harbor for some time. He mingled in society a great deal in New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, and on account of his brother's reputation he was every where received with honor and attention. In Baltimore he became acquainted with Miss Patterson, and conceiving a strong attachment for her, married her in her native city in Dec. 1803. At that time he was but nineteen years of age and he had married without his mother's consent, and, as was afterwards seen, in direct opposition to his brother's wishes. Although the attachment was mutual, Napoleon determined not to recognize the marriage, and to strengthen himself in this position he wrote to the Pope, Pius VII. asking him to issue a bull annulling it. In making this request Napoleon remarked, "I have frequently spoken to your Holiness of a young brother, nineteen years of age, whom I sent in a frigate to America, and who after a sojourn of a month, although a minor, married a Protestant, a daughter of a merchant of the United States. He has just returned. He is fully conscious of his fault. I have sent back to America Miss Patterson, who calls herself his wife. By our laws the marriage is null. * * * * * I desire from your Holiness a bull annulling the marriage." Napoleon used several hogsheads in this; for the marriage was concluded after an acquaintance of several months, and Jerome was probably not "conscious of his fault" in that he did not choose to wait for the hand of a Princess. Pius VII refused to annul the marriage, saying he had no power to do so; whereupon the Emperor took the responsibility on his own subjects and refused to acknowledge the marriage, thus committing a crime near akin to that greater one of which he was guilty a few years afterward—the divorcing of his own wife. By Elizabeth Patterson Jerome had one son, bearing his own name.—This son settled in Baltimore as a lawyer; but afterwards abandoned his profession to attend to his large estates. One of his son's Napoleon Jerome Bonaparte, graduated at the West Point Military Academy in 1852. I believe Elizabeth Patterson died a few years ago. Her divorce was proclaimed by the Imperial Senate of France and by the Maryland Legislature in 1805.

But so far allusion has only been made to the Baltimore branch of the Patterson family. As stated before, Wm. Patterson, father-in-law of Jerome Bonaparte, had near relatives in North Carolina. Among these were his nephews, Isaac and Robin Patterson. They were honest and very respectable; but without business capacity, wanting in energy, and illiterate. Robin was a volunteer in the war of 1812, and being the first soldier the writer ever saw, he looked upon him with all a boy's curiosity, venerating him as one of the heroes of the past, as—on Sundays—the little old man with his old fashioned, spiked blue coat sat, in his pew in the middle aisle at Old Alamance. They were a very simple hearted people, and "Old Ike," as he was called, was very eccentric. They had near relatives belonging to the gentry of Ireland, and by the death of some of these relatives a considerable sum of money fell to the Pattersons of America. It was sent to Wm. Patterson of Baltimore to be distributed; but he was wanting in the single-mindedness and honesty of his poor Guilford relatives, and wickedly appropriated the legacy to his own use, keeping the whole matter secret. At last, fearing detection, he wrote to his nephew Robin that he had received a sum of money from Ireland for his North Carolina kinsmen.

There were no railroads in those days and upon the reception of the Baltimore uncle's letter, "Ike" volunteered to go for the golden treasure, so badly needed, and now so eagerly looked for. The family was in reduced circumstances and none of its members could furnish a suit of clothes sufficiently decent for "Ike" to wear. The old lady is still living in Guilford who made the new coat he was to wear on this (to him) wonderful and extraordinary journey. She can relate many amusing incidents in regard to the delight of the Pattersons, their bustle in preparing for Ike's journey, and the neighborhood gossip.—At length Ike saddled the old gray beast that had drawn his plow many a day, and, with an old leathern wallet, jogged off on this long and eventful journey. After several days of adventure on the way the unsophisticated North Carolina relative arrived in Baltimore, and with a very clownish air, dressed in the new outfit about which there had been such a bustle, the crowning piece of which was a blue jean, spike tailed coat, set off with brass buttons, he trotted up and down the streets of the Monumental City, inquiring for Wm. Patterson, the wealthy merchant, the father-in-law of a Bonaparte. Finding his way to his uncle's princely residence, he alighted, called for Mr. P., and introduced himself. His uncle received him politely at his door, brought out a purse of gold containing, as he said, several hundred dollars for each of his relatives; and simple Ike was so pleased with the shining coin and his crafty old uncle's suavity of manner that he never dreamed that he was receiving but a mere pittance of what was really due him.—Without even offering his nephew the hospitality of his mansion he bade him adieu. Such was the meeting of the opulent merchant, father in law of the King of Westphalia, and his simple-hearted, unsophisticated kinsman.

Ike returned home much pleased; but some of the family, of greater penetration, were much angered and complained, though to no purpose, of their uncle's conduct. Notwithstanding this, they were always proud to claim him as their kinsman and boasted of their near relationship to the mightiest General of modern times. In his late days "Uncle Robin," as he was universally called, lost his sole dependence, an only son, and he was thus—being very old, blind and deaf—thrown, to a considerable extent, upon the charity of his neighbors. One evening in October 1864, I was riding through the section of the country in which Uncle Robin lived, and on an old log by the roadside, down in a deep ravine, I last saw the poor old man, sitting perfectly desolate, his hat lying on the ground, his hands folded on his staff and his head, white as frost, resting on his folded hands. He wore the same old blue coat I had seen him wear to Old Alamance on Sundays since my earliest recollection. As I passed on I could not help thinking, "and this man's blood has mingled with that of the Bonapartes!" What a contrast! And yet not happier in his end was Napoleon than this poor old man, the last of the Pattersons!"

For the Sentinel.

RALEIGH, N. C. Jan. 6th, 1870.

To the Editor of the Sentinel:

Sir, believing you to be a friend of the mechanics and working men in general, I hope you will publish this statement. The Mechanics Building and Loan Association was organized last May, as an experiment, to see if the citizens of Raleigh would sustain an association of the kind for their mutual benefit, for it does benefit all alike; it has been successful beyond all expectation, the books was first opened with a limit of 1000 shares, at the second meeting they had all been taken up by resolution, they were open to increase it to 2,000 shares, and it has nearly all been taken. As each person takes a share he pays $1 monthly on each share, he has the privilege of taking fifty shares if he chooses. As the stock increases in value persons taking shares has to pay the premium on each share, for instance, a man that has taken five shares at the start it has only cost him forty dollars, at this time those five shares are worth, in cash, a fraction over sixty five dollars, so it is a safe investment for monied men to invest in, and, at the same time, aid their unlucky fellow men.

My object in this statement is to show the importance of starting another one at once, and I have good reason to believe it will be done.

H. S. KEITH.

The New York World is telling some terrible stories of the wickedness at Washington, in which the professional women of the lobby and their friends in Congress are the figurantes. Columns of details are given, but the following will suffice to show what a loathsome picture the writer has been painting:

Among the lobby women in Washington last Winter was the daughter of a present U. S. Senator, whose father years ago refused to let her marry the man of her choice. She eloped with him; he deceived her by a mock marriage, he having two other wives, so called, living; he took all her jewels, and even most of her clothing, and abandoned her. She went to the bad head long, refused all overtures to return home, and the father and daughter used to pass one another in the Capitol a year ago—she a wanton and he a Senator—and never speak. Nor did either ever betray the event to any one. If pulled her dead; she consented to be dead ever to him.

Another Senator's wife, who is an lovable, cannot be unaware, for no one else is, that her husband has stocked no less than six of his mistresses on the civil service as clerks, and that he adds to the number every session.

Another Senator, a Southwest carpet bagger, lolsted his mistress on the Treasury Department last year, and was influential enough to have her salary continued while he sent her on to New York to undergo an abortion. She died. The Senator himself drew the arrears of pay ostensibly for the mother of the murdered woman, who has yet to see the first cent of it.

Another honorable, this time of the House, was driven out of a leading hotel six years ago for notorious conduct with a married woman, and that with the consent of the husband. That husband is now clerk of that Congressman's committee, his wife is the Congressman's mistress, and her son is a page on the floor of the House, and waits on his mutual fathers every day.

PUBLIC MEETING.—We hope to see a full attendance of our citizens at the meeting at the Court House at 12 M., on Monday next. The importance of sending a delegate to represent the advantages of soil, climate, and water of this section over any other on the American Continent, for Dairy purposes, cannot be too highly estimated. It may be the means of inducing capital and men to come here to aid in developing the rich resources of our country and diffuse a spirit of energy and enterprise which our people are at present strangers to. The National Dairyman's Association is composed of gentlemen of means and influence in almost every Northern State, and any representation of our section made by the delegate we elect, will be published and spread broad cast over the whole country. So anxious is that Association to receive a delegate from here that it would willingly pay the necessary travelling expenses. If our people really wish to see Western North Carolina prospering with an increased population of intelligent and wealthy citizens, they will find no better means to obtain that wish than by sending a delegate who can and will properly represent the advantages of this peculiarly Dairy section to the National Dairyman's Association.—Asheville Pioneer.

SUDDEN DEATH.—On returning to his home on Monday morning, at six o'clock, Mr. Jesse Hagan, who is a member of the night police, found his wife lying across the bed dead, having evidently expired several hours before.

Mrs. Hagan was about twenty-five years of age, and with her husband recently removed from the country to town. She complained on Sunday of feebleness, but had been in her usual health up to the time of her death.

An inquest was held on Tuesday, and the jury rendered a verdict of death from natural causes.—Tarboro Carolinian.

HILLSBORO' ELECTION.—The ticket proposed in the last issue of this paper was voted for by both the negroes and white men of the town and was elected out and out by handsome odds. It was made up of some of the best men in the place. The voting was done in a quiet and dignified manner worthy the elective privileges of men. We didn't see a wild beast on the street with a vote in his hand. The ticket elected was as follows:

Mayor—Wm. F. Strayhorn.

Commissioners—George Laws, T. Webb, Esq., E. H. Pogue, Jesse Hedgpeth, Peter B. Ruffin, Israel Turner, and D. A. Robertson.—Hillsboro Recorder.

They have a fellow living in Lafayette, Ind., who is humility personified. The other day he asked a young lady if he might "be allowed the privilege of going home with her," and was indignantly refused; whereupon he inquired, very humbly, if he might be allowed to sit on the fence and see her go by."

TAXES—DEBT.

From Boston to Kansas, even among Republicans, there is a demand to reduce taxes, while the Democrats all demand and expect a reduction. The first blow to strike should be at the Army and Navy, each altogether larger than is necessary, and then at the army of office-holders. The federal forces all round need reduction, as well as the federal morals, as will be seen from the recent exposures made in Washington.—The leading Republican journals in Ohio and Indiana ask for immediate reduction.

The Boston Advertiser also says:

"To attempt to pay off in a few years a debt incurred as this was for the safety and happiness of many generations, while all great business interests are depressed, and taxes are eating into the substance of every kind of labor, is a delusive economy which must be followed by a bitter awakening by and by."

With an excess of $124,000,000 of receipts over taxes, the President and Secretary of the Treasury are for holding on, and holding over, and will do so unless Congress is pressed to the wall by a people who need more income and less taxes to live upon and provide properly for the business of the country.—N. Y. Express.

On the 8th of May, 1869, certain Pawnee Indians left their reservation and went into Polk county, Nebraska, where they murdered Edward McNurly, without cause or provocation. Mrs. McNurly, widow of the murdered man, now appeals to the Indian Department for damages amounting to $25,000, which she asks may be assessed upon the tribe and taken from their appropriations.

The agent for the Nez Perces Indians reports to the department that during a recent term of the District Court in Idaho a man was indicted for selling whiskey to the Indians, and being found guilty was sentenced to the State Prison for twelve months. This is said to have a salutary effect, as it was the first case of conviction for that offence in that court. There have been no drunken Indians seen since in the tribe.

The following telegram was received from General Sully, on the 1st P. M. Shaw, Montana Territory:—

I have met some of the Blackfeet chiefs. They promise to go north and procure the stolen stock, and will, if they can, deliver up the three principal murderers.

The above refers to outrages which have been committed during the recent fall months, principally by the Piegan tribe of the Blackfeet nation, who have gone north of the line of Montana Territory into British America. They are thought to be at least 200 miles north of the line of the United States territory.

MUNICIPAL ELECTION—MONDAY.—When we went to press Monday night the rejoicings over the Municipal election were still going on. At a late hour the Charlotte Cornet Band went to the residence of Col. Dowd, the Mayor elect, and serenaded him. He entertained them in a sumptuous manner and returned thanks for the compliment. The young men of the Band then proceeded to each of the Aldermen elect, except in the second ward, and serenaded them also.

The incoming City Fathers acknowledged the compliment in appropriate speeches. Mr. John Wardsworth, one of the Aldermen elected in the Ward congratulated his visitors on there success but he was pressed to go on when he declined, saying that he was afraid he would spoil what he had already said, and invited the party in to a sumptuous feast.

In the Second Ward, Mr. John T Butler, John L. Morehead and R. A. Springs, the regular Conservative nominees were defeated in consequence of another Conservative ticket being in the field. This is to be regretted as Messrs Butler, Morehead and Springs would have been great accessions to the board of Aldermen, however the Conservatives had glory enough for one day.—Char. Observer.

DISCOVERY OF GUANO ISLANDS.—A New York sea-captain recently discovered several small islands in the Carribean sea upon which deposits of guano are found. Inquiries made of the State Department show only one of the islands proved to have ever been claimed by any government or person. That one belongs to some Venezuelan citizens, who discovered it about a year since. Relying upon the correctness of this evidence as to the Captain's right to the island by discovery, the Secretary of State has caused certificates of title and Government protection to be issued to the attorneys for the claimant. These islands are reported to be very valuable. The guano is said to be found there in immense quantities.—Portland Press.

COMMITTED FOR LARCENY.—Jane Stukes (col.) charged with stealing furs and skins from the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad Depot, to the value of $54, was before Justice Cantwell, yesterday, and, the evidence being deemed sufficient to convict, he was committed to jail, in default of security in the sum of $200, to await his trial at the next term of the Superior Court.—Wil. Star.

INQUEST.—Coronor Allen yesterday held an inquest over the body of Allen G. Jacobs, an old colored man, who was found dead at his residence on Church street, between Fourth and Fifth, Monday morning before dawn. He had been attacked by a chill the evening previous, which is supposed to have been conjestive. The jury returned a verdict of "death from causes unknown to the jury."—Wil. Journal.

A KNIFE GUN.—The Prussian needle-gun, it is said, has a formidable rival in the form of a messhauerstergewehr, or knife-gun, the new breech-loader invented by Herr Mayholer, of Kausehr, East Prussia. At a recent trial in Konigsberg twenty five rounds, with full cartridge, are said to have been fired off per minute. The missile penetrates at a distance of two thousand yards. The piece carries with great precision, and has the great advantage of a minimum of smoke. The invention extends to the cartridge as well as to the gun. The inventor had repeated his offer to sell his patent to the Prussian government, but it has not yet been accepted. He has spent his whole fortune of twenty-five thousand dollars, in the production of the arm, and threatens to go to Austria or France if Prussia does not give him an answer soon.

SALE OF THE WILMINGTON AND MANCHESTER RAILROAD.—This morning one of the most remarkable sales ever witnessed in our city will take place at the Court House door at public auction. It is no less than a sale of the Wilmington and Manchester Railroad with all the property belonging to the Company. The sale will take place at 11 o'clock, and is made by order of Commissioners acting under decrees of the Courts of this State and South Carolina.—Wil. Journal, Jan. 5th.

The quarrel between Governor Warmouth of Louisiana, and some of the New Orleans city officers still continues. Auditor Wickliffe is not yet in possession of his office in Mechanic's Institute, the Governor and the Metropolitan Police are yet in possession. The Chief of Police has been committed to prison for contempt of Court in allowing the Governor to use the Police contrary to orders.

Wash. Cor. of the New York Herald.

THE VACANT JUDGESHIP—ATTORNEY GENERAL HOAR'S CHANCES IMPROVING.

It would seem that the friends of Attorney General Hoar have come in possession of some new facts which lead them to believe that if a direct vote is reached in the Senate he will be confirmed as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. At all events, it is said they will have the nomination taken from the table and pressed to a vote soon after the recess. Careful inquiry among the Senators now in the city develops the fact that all who were opposed to Hoar, when his nomination was before the Senate, are still against him and would vote for his rejection. They say he would have been rejected at the time had not his few friends begged him off with the promise that his name would be withdrawn. Zach Chandler is reported as saying that Hoar couldn't be confirmed for justice of the peace, and that the Senate would put a head on him, no matter for what place he was nominated. There is some talk of the President withdrawing Hoar and nominating him as the successor of Stanton. This, it is said, would do away with what was put forth as one of the chief objections to his confirmation, namely, locality. The Pennsylvanians, however, will steadily oppose any such arrangement as this, because they claim that the appointment to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Stanton belongs to their State. The truth is, the opposition to Hoar is of a personal nature, and the chances are the prediction of Zach Chandler, relative to the action of the Senate in rejecting him for whatever place he may be nominated, is probably correct.

THE TRICHINÆ EXCITEMENT IN ILLINOIS.—A dispatch to the Chicago Tribune from Belvidere, Illinois, on the 30th ult., says:

"The trachinæ cases continue to create much excitement in this and adjoining counties. Pork is discarded by every one, and those who have eaten any during the past fortnight are not easy until sufficient time elapses to make it certain they have escaped the terrible disease. It has been ascertained that the hog which caused the disease was six years old, and almost rotten. He was fit for nothing but to kill and bury. The progress of the case is watched with deep interest, as important scientific developments are likely to result from the proper study of the disease in so aggravated a form."

A practical chemist of Chicago sends to the Tribune the following remedy for trichinæ spiralis:

"It is reported that trichinæ is again in our midst, arising from eating diseased pork. The afflicted ask for a curative agent. A series of experiments has enabled me to offer a remedy for trichinæ spiralis. Give the patient two drops of carbolic acid (crystals) thoroughly incorporated with forty drops of glycerine. Alternate (every three hours) with twenty drops liquor sodæ bisulphis, to be administered in a wineglass of water. In urgent cases repeat these every hour, and continue until relief is obtained.

"I find that corbolic acid and sulphuric acid will effectually destroy the animalcule and parasitic family. These anti-parasitic agents may be safely administered in a diluted form, as above prescribed, and no injurious results can possibly occur to the most delicate constitution.

"The trichinæ may be found throughout the system, and in order to reach them with carbolic acid I advise its admixture with glycerine, which is the most efficacious vehicle for its dissemination through every part of the body, as glycerine will rapidly penetrate both flesh and bone, and carry with it such chemical agents as it may be charged with.

"The sodæ bi sulphis, in addition to destroying parasitic life, reduces the inflammation and allays the pain caused by the ravages of the trichinæ."

A YOUNG WOMAN BECOMES A RAVING MANIAC THROUGH FRIGHT.—A gentleman from Sparta, Tennessee, gives us the particulars of a sad affair which occurred in that part of the country last week. At one of those periodial masqueradings for which the rural districts are celebrated, the subject of ghosts and spiritual visitations was discussed at great length, and with all that exaggeration and high coloring usually attached to any theme in which the supernatural plays a part. When the party broke up one of the young men of the neighborhood conceived the idea of frightening two of the ladies, who had some distance to go along a lonely road with their brother. Wrapping himself in a sheet from head to foot, he took a short path and emerged upon the trio from a copse of bushes just as they came up. As the figure in white became visible, moving slowly towards them, the trio set up the most horrible shrieks, and fled down the path in the utmost terror. One of the ladies swooned and fell to the ground, while the other reached the house with reason unscated, a raving maniac.—Nashville Banner.

"Parepa-Rosa was singing 'Casta Diva' at San Francisco. Folding her white hands on her bosom and raising her tender eyes, she commenced with Æolian notes, the melody swelling and breaking into a gush of plaintive, supplicative harmony that vibrated through every chord of the heart. I glanced at my friend by my side, radiant in her magnificent dress and halo of golden hair silver powdered, and there was a sweet, pensive look on her downcast face. The music ceased, and the audience, with enthusiasm, was demanding an encore, when my beautiful companion raised her large serene eyes to mine and said, 'Isn't it sad?' 'Yes,' replied I, quickly sharing her feeling; 'although so glorious, it touched a melancholy chord.' 'O, nonsense!' she exclaimed; 'I don't mean that! You know very well that I don't pretend to appreciate this kind of musical jargon. I mean isn't it sad to see so many young men in California bald headed? I wonder if it's dissipation, or trouble, or the climate, or what? Do you know that I have been picking out bald heads down in the parquet, and, would you believe it, I actually counted twenty-one.'"

BARN BURNING.—On Christmas night the barn of Mr. John Staton, residing about two miles from town, was set on fire and burned up. There were about two hundred and fifty barrels of corn in the barn, and but for its having been put up in the shuck would have been a total loss, as it was Mr. Staton saved about half his corn.

We call upon the Governor to suspend the writ of habeas corpus, and send down the militia. This is a genuine case of Ku Klux lawlessness (?)—Tarboro Carolinian.

TOWN ELECTIONS.—Our municipal election came off on Monday. There were two hundred and thirty-eight votes cast, the republican ticket obtaining twenty majority. The following are the officers elected: John Norfleet, Mayor; A. McCabe, B. J. Keech, J. H. M Jackson, Commissioners. The last named is a negro, we may say a colored man, for he is a mulatto.—Tarboro Carolinian.

NEW CROP.—The first cargo of new crop Cuba molasses this season was brought to our market yesterday by the schooner Donna Anna. She is consigned to Messrs. Worth & Worth, who advertise the cargo for sale in this issue, and to which we ask attention.—Wil. Journal.

The Stock of this Company is owned by the Capitalists of Louisville, Ky., and St. Louis, Mo. It is emphatically a Western and Southern Institution.

The DE SOTO has no desire to exalt its merits over those of other good Companies, nor to prosper on the decline of others, laboring in the same fields, and for the same grand object. Confident of its equal advantages with others, of whatever age or standing, it is willing to labor honorably for success. It hopes to deserve the public confidence by its energy, industry, and liberal spirit.

From the Missouri Republican.

"Few Companies have started out with such gratifying and flattering prospects of success, and under such favorable auspices. The Company has been extremely fortunate in the selection of its Directory. Its President, JAMES H. LUCAS, needs not a word of commendation from us. He enjoys a general reputation as a gentleman of wealth, unquestioned integrity, practical good sense, sound judgment and splendid business capacity.

The Directors rank among the first class of our merchants, bankers and citizens, as men of capital, financial ability and experience: men of probity and unblemished reputation. In the character of such a Directory, the community have the best guarantee that the business of the Company will be prudently and judiciously managed."

Policies issued on all the popular plans and all Non-Forfeiting.

Policy-holders may travel by the usual modes of conveyance, either by land, river, lake or coast wise, in any portion of the United States and Territories, the settled portions of the two Canadas, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, and in time of peace may cross and recross the Atlantic Ocean by the usual passenger routes to, and travel and reside within, any portion of Europe.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 7, 1870.

☞ THEO. N. RAMSAY, as Business Clerk, is authorized to make contracts and give receipts, &c., &c.

☞ Hereafter all obituaries not exceeding ten lines in length (eight words to the line), will be published free; for any number of lines over ten, ten cents per line will be charged—to be accompanied, in every instance, by the cash, to insure publication. ☜

MASS MEETING IN RALEIGH, ON THE 10TH OF JANUARY.

Leading gentlemen from various parts of the county of Wake have agreed on Monday, Jan. 10th, as the day for a grand Mass Meeting of the people in Raleigh, to express their views on the odious bill for the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus, and other public measures. The various districts will be well represented. Come one, come all, and join in a protest against the insidious attacks being made on your liberty.

NEW ADS.—Attention bald heads! Pescud, Lee & Co., have the lotions for restoring the "hair to the top of the head, at the place where the wool ought to grow;" besides a number of other articles in their line of trade.

E. Via, 26, Fayetteville street announces "positively the cheapest cash store in Raleigh;" go and see.

BRING IT BACK.—Somebody has taken from our table, Stanley's letter to Sumner. We want it returned, as we are not done with it.

Right here we will say that it is a great annoyance to an editor to have things taken from his table, or to have them tumbled about and misplaced.

PROGRESSING.—From indications about the new Market House, we judge it will be ready below for the erection and letting of stalls in a short time. The stalls, according to the plan, will be erected down the centre and along each wall, thus affording ample accommodation for the wants of the city, in this respect, for a long time to come.

When it is finished and turned over, we move that the whole city have a big blow out there of some sort, by way of a "warming."

NEW HEAD.—The Episcopal Methodist, published in this city, by Rev. W. H. Bobbitt, is out this week with a new fancy head—almost too fancy, we are inclined to think, for a religious paper, but that is altogether a matter of taste, and we are ready to concede that most persons would differ with us on this subject.

The Episcopal Methodist is a large, well printed paper; a faithful exponent of the Church in the interest of which it is published, and is besides, an excellent family newspaper.

MOVING.—This is moving season in Raleigh. All day long wagon and cart loads of furniture may be seen passing in every direction. It is a very unpleasant time of the year for this business, but in some aspects, in a city like ours, it is the most appropriate time that could be chosen. Four-fifths of the residences here have gardens attached, and almost every family raises more or less vegetables. To change the time of moving either to the Spring or Fall, would interfere with gardening operations and involve the necessity, in a great measure, of foregoing any attempt to raise vegetables for family use. And so, for the good in this respect, people are willing to undergo the evil of moving in cold, bad weather.

The dwelling of Miss Adeline Dewey of Newbern caught fire, on the 4th, from a defective flue, but was extinguished without material damage.

Let Common Sense Decide.

What is the rational mode of procedure in cases of general debility and nervous prostration? Does not reason tell us that judicious stimulation is required? To resort to violent purgation in such a case is as absurd as it would be to bleed a starving man. Yet it is done every day. Yes, this stupid and unphilosophical practice is continued in the teeth of the great fact that physical weakness, with all the nervous disturbances that accompany it, is more certainly and rapidly relieved by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters than by any other medicine at present known. It is true that general debility is often attended with torpidity or irregularity of the bowels, and that this symptom must not be overlooked. But while the discharge of the waste matter of the system is expedited or regulated, its vigor must be recruited. The Bitters do both. They combine aperient and antibilious properties, with extraordinary tonic power. Even while removing obstructions from the bowels, they tone and invigorate those organs.—Through the stomach, upon which the great vegetable specific acts directly, it gives a healthy and permanent impetus to every enfeebled function. Digestion is facilitated, the faltering circulation regulated, the blood reinforced with a new accession of the alimentary principle, the nerves braced, and all the dormant powers of the system roused into healthy action; not spasmodically, as would be the case if a mere stimulant were administered, but for a continuance.—It is in this way that such extraordinary changes are wrought in the condition of the feeble, emaciated and nervous invalids by the use of this wonderful corrective, alterative and tonic. Let common sense decide between such a preparation and a prostrating cathartic supplemented by a poisonous astringent like strychnine or quina.

Jan. 1-d&w1w.

Throat Affections and Hoarseness.—All suffering from Irritation of the Throat and Hoarseness will be agreeably surprised at the almost immediate relief afforded by the use of "Brown's Bronchial Troches." The demulcent ingredients allay pulmonary irritation; and, after public speaking or singing, when the throat is wearied and weakened by too much exercise, their use will give renewed strength to the vocal organs.

PUBLIC MEETING IN CASWELL.

The people of Caswell are requested to meet at the Court House in Yanceyville on Saturday the 8th of January 1870, to consider the state of public affairs, and especially to express their sentiments in regard to the Bill now pending in the Legislature to place the State under military rule and clothe W. W. Holden with despotic power.

MANY CITIZENS.

December 30, 1869.

GRAND JAIL DELIVERY.—On yesterday, about thirty convicts were taken from Wake county jail to the Penitentiary Stockade near the city, twelve or fifteen of them being the contribution of Wake to that institution, and the balance brought from other counties. Among them were five or six whites, the balance colored.

There are a number of others in various counties of the State whose credentials are made out for the same destination, who will be coming in soon; and the arrangements for accommodations will, we fear, be exhausted before half of them shall obtain lodgings.

We sympathise with friend Pike on this arbitrary sequestration of so many of his friends before next summer's election, but he will doubtless console himself with the reflection that there are plenty more "of the same sort" left to make a numerically imposing appearance when the time comes.

There is one aspect in which this matter presents itself, which demands the charitable sympathy of all philanthropists. The sudden withdrawal of the daily rations of the shoals of vermin there will have an unhappy effect upon the few remaining inmates, who will stand a very fair chance of being "eaten up alive." It makes our flesh crawl to think of their condition.

THE JOHNSTON COUNTY AFFAIR.—C. H. Snead, accused of stealing fine horses, on Sunday in Christmas, noticed by us some days since, with Eugene Cox and W. C. Massey, the former of whom it will be remembered, turned State's witness in the case, and the latter accused of aiding and abetting by receiving and secreting the stolen horses, were all brought to this city on a Bench warrant issued by Judge Watts, to undergo an examination in the case.—

The examination was had last night before Judge Watts and the prisoner remanded to jail, until Tuesday night next for a further hearing.

Maj. Jones informs us that he had dismissed Snead from the Revenue service, (but not from the militia,) before he stole the horses. Perhaps it was with a view of recommending himself for some other position, that he went into the horse operation. We fear, however, the thing will take an unfavorable turn, and he will not be able to raise the pressure.

We presume he still holds the positions of militia Colonel and J. P.

SUPREME COURT.—Thursday Jan. 6D.—Court was opened at 10, A. M. Present: The Chief Justice and all the Associates.

Besides the Attorney General and gentlemen of the Raleigh Bar, his Honor Edmund T. Jones, Judge of the 2d District, and Josiah Collins, Esq., were in attendance.

The following cases were argued: State vs. Reuben Deal, from Edgecombe, and State vs. B. F. Spencer, from Hyde—Attorney General Olds appearing for the State in both cases—No counsel for the defendants. Ransom vs. McClees, from Tyrell—Josiah Collins, Esq., for plaintiff. No counsel appeared for defendants.

The Chief Justice stated from the Bench, that to-morrow cases from the 2nd District will be promptly called and disposed of, for this Term.

At 12 o'clock Court adjourned to meet again on Friday, at 10 A. M.

Next week cases from the 4th and 5th Districts will be called. No opinions have been yet delivered by the Court.

The following joint Resolutions of the General Assembly, passed in December last, was on the first day of the present term, transmitted, officially, to the Supreme Court.

"Resolution requesting the opinion of the Chief Justice and Associate Justices of the Supreme Court.

WHEREAS, There is a difference of opinion in regard to the term of office of members of this General Assembly; therefore,

Resolved by the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring, That the Chief Justice and Associate Justices of the Supreme Court, be requested, in view of the importance of determining the doubt, to indicate what would be its construction of the constitutional provisions relating thereto, in case the question should be presented in due course of law.

Ratified the 11th day of December, 1869.

The Court has taken no action in the matter, so far.

A Wonderful Southern Discovery.—In the South where Liver complaint and billious diseases prevail to so great an extent, there has long been felt a need of a medicine that would act specifically and promptly on the Liver, restoring it to its normal functions, and at the same time be safe from after effects, and yet so simple that it might be used by any one. It is claimed that DR. TUTT'S VEGETABLE LIVER PILLS supplies this want. They act directly on the Liver; their constant use will not injure in the slightest degree the most delicate constitution. Females at any period may use them with great benefit, and realize great relief from the distressing nausea which they experience at certain times. These pills are not recommended as a universal cure-all, but simply for diseased Liver, and those maladies which follow a derangement of that important organ, such as Dyspepsia, Headache, Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, Costiveness, Piles, Jaundice, Sour Stomach, Ladies Heartburn, Chills and Fever, Foul Breath, Restlessness at night, and Flatulency. These invaluable pills may be found in every Drug Store of any note in the South and West.

PETITION.—A petition will be circulated in a few days asking of the General Government an appropriation of one hundred thousand dollars to erect a building for Postoffice, Customs, and rooms for the United States Court. Those qualified to judge think there is no doubt of the success of the enterprise, provided the petition is generally signed by our people. We presume no one will refuse to sign the petition, as its object is one that has in view a great improvement to our city.

We learn that as soon as the signatures of our citizens are obtained the petition will be forwarded to Gen. Abbott, who will give it his immediate attention.—Wil. Star.

THE REMAINS OF GEORGE PEABODY.—The authorities at the Navy Department are of opinion that her Majesty's ship Monarch, with the remains of George Peabody, will not reach Portland earlier than the 15th of this month. Admiral Porter calculates that if she comes by way of the Azores Islands she will have to sail 200 miles a day in order to get here by the middle of the month, that is, allowing her four days stopping at the Azores. If she comes by way of the Madeira Islands and St. Thomas she will not be here till February.

A NEW DISCOVERY!!

PHALON'S

"VITALIA;"

OR,

Salvation for the Hair.

CLEAR AS WATER!
WITHOUT SEDIMENT!!
OPEN TO THE LIGHT!!!

For Restoring to Gray Hair its Original Color.

PHALON'S "VITALIA" differs utterly from all the hair coloring preparations heretofore used. It is limpid, sweet smelling, precipitates no muddy or slimy matter, requires no shaking, imparts no stain to the skin. Hold it to the light and it is clear and cloudless. It leaves no mark on the scalp; yet it reproduces in gray hair the natural color that time or sickness may have bleached out of it.

is for one sole purpose, that of reproducing, with absolute certainty, the natural color of the hair. It is not intended as a daily dressing, nor for removing scurf or dandruff; nor for curing baldness; nor for stimulating the growth of the hair.—These objects may be accomplished after the color has been fixed with the Vitalia, by Phalon's Chemical Hair Invigorator.

THE VITALIA is a harmless and unequaled preparation for the reproduction of the original hue of gray hair, and nothing else. This is accomplished in from two to ten applications, according to the depth of shade required. Sold by all druggists.

It is now burned by thousands of families, and in no instance has any accident occurred from its use; a lamp filled with it, if upset and broken, will not explode. To prevent adulteration, the "Astral" Oil is packed only in the Guaranty Patent Cans, of 1 gallon and 5 gallons each, and each can is sealed in a manner that cannot be counterfeited. VALUABLE PROPERTY FOR SALE.

WILL BE SOLD TO THE HIGHEST BIDder, on the 15th day of January next, at the Court House door in the Town of Louisburg, the valuable property known as the "Pearce Mills" with EIGHTY ACRES of land attached. This property is located in the Eastern part of Franklin county, near the "Portis Gold Mine," on "Sandy Creek"—A NEVER FAILING STREAM. The Mills are in excellent condition and has an extensive and profitable patronage. The situation is an excellent one for a Cotton Gin and a store and with these added the property would prove a fortune to any energetic man in a few years. The Gin and store houses could be put up at very little cost, as there is an excellent Saw Mill attached to the other Mills with an abundance of timber on the land, belonging to the property. For further particulars apply to Mr. R. M. Pierce, who resides at the Mill, who will take pleasure in showing the property. Terms made known on day of sale.

And $5,000 ready to pay a loss of No. 34,161, so soon as the party authorized to receive the money appears.

The Company has been well tested throughout the State, as to its promptness in paying her losses, reliability, &c.

DIVIDENDS PAID AT THE END OF THE FIRST YEAR, AND ANNUALLY THEREAFTER.

Its ratio of expense to income is extremely low. This may be seen by reference to the Official Reports for 1868. For example:

EXPENSE ON THE $100 RECEIVED.

KNICKERBOCKER,	$16,54
EQUITABLE,	17,44
NORTH AMERICA,	21,16
BROOKLYN,	21,09
UNIVERSAL,	27,34
JOHN HANCOCK,	18,27
THE NATIONAL,	63,48
THE ÆTNA,	13,41

It has an IMPORTANT NEW FEATURE that has been copy-righted. According to this plan the rates are MUCH LOWER than in any other Company in the world.

Its ratio of Mortality is low. Its rates are very low. Its expenses are very low. Its dividends are large.

It insured more lives in the City of New York in 1868, than any other Company, except one. It issued more Policies in the United States than any other save one. It insured more lives in Canada than any other Company, British or American.

See what the LEADING INSURANCE AUTHORITY in this country says. In the June number of the Insurance Times, of New York, the following opinion was expressed:

"If there is any great benefit in mutual association, any great advantage to be derived from scientific organization and a chartered source, tending to mitigate the sufferings, lessen the privations, and add to the peace, security, and happiness of humanity, we are prepared to show that these blessings flow, in all their fullness and purity, from this excellent, powerful, and flourishing Company, the ÆTNA LIFE, of Hartford."

"No institution has brought more prompt, full, and grateful relief to the hearths of the bereaved and desolate, and none has been more uniformly distinguished for the enterprise, wisdom, and equitable liberality with which it has fulfilled the purposes of its forma tion."

"Its success has been almost unbounded and beyond all precedent. Eight years ago, in 1861, it issued only two policies, received an income of seventy-eight thousand dollars, and possessed net assets amounting up to something over two hundred and eighty-one thousand dollars; but last year, 1868, it granted 13,337 new policies, more than any other Company except the Mutual Life; received an income exceeding six million dollars, and had amassed solid, securely and profitably invested nett assets amounting to over Ten Million Three Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars. And this wonderful ratio of growth has been sustained in 1869."
